

Levelt's (1989) Model of Speech Production ("Blueprint of the Speaker")
 (more influential & recent than the Fromkin's Model in the Carroll book)

(note: boxes represent processing components; circle and ellipse represent knowledge representations)